

Spiritual Warfare: 'Life Is a Battleground, Not a Playground'

Pastor Shane Idleman says people will know us by our fruit. If we are preaching Christ to someone, it will soon be evident if we are living what we are preaching.

"When I stand up and start to preach something and the Spirit of God is quenched and grieved, everyone in the room will know it," Idleman says. "It will be like bricks falling out of my mouth because I stand up here as a hypocrite, and everyone knows it."

In this inspiring video devotional, Idleman implores us as Christ followers to "bring everything thought into captivity into the obedience of Christ" and not let our "flesh lead by default." {eo}
