

How to Quit Porn in 2017

We've all made New Year's resolutions we quickly break—Statistic Brain reports that less than 9 percent of people successfully achieve their resolution.

With 68 percent of men in the church viewing pornography on a regular basis, the dominant cry in their hearts is: "I will never do this again; I won't let porn control me anymore!" Most men who make a New Year's resolution to never watch porn again find themselves back on the same websites in no time. Will power won't fix it!

Do It the Right Way in 2017—Start a Process

Trying harder only tightens the noose around your neck. Each time you fail, you increase the shame you carry, which perpetuates the cycle—you go back to porn to medicate the shame you're feeling. Committing to a process takes time because there's no quick fix. It's more than just saying, "I will no longer watch porn," because it's really not about porn. You're using porn to medicate the feeling of worthlessness you have down in your soul. You do this by accessing the internal pharmacy that you have in your brain.

Neuropsychologist Dr. Tim Jennings says, "Any type of repetitive behavior will create trails in our brains that are going to fire on an automatic sequence." The result is years of bondage. This is how you can love the Lord but still be trapped in bondage to porn. You must renew your mind.

Dr. Ted Roberts in the Conquer Series will teach you how to biblically renew your mind and find freedom. Dr. Ted has a 90 percent success rate in helping men find freedom.
