

Protect Your Ministry From Dangerous Religious Discrimination With These Practical Steps

As a ministry leader, people look to you to set an example and embody the values of your faith. However, you may face challenges from those whose values differ from yours.

Download your FREE e-book from GuideOne Insurance and better understand the key elements to safeguard your ministry and your religious expression. This timely e-book, developed specifically for churches, will offer you key considerations, such as:

- Understand the laws in your state regarding religious exemptions to state civil rights laws.
- Consider incorporating appropriate belief statements into your organization's governing documents.
- Consistently follow the provisions of your governing documents and operational policies.
- Exercise caution when publicly addressing sensitive issues relating to sexuality and same-gender marriage.
- Discuss with your church's insurance agent the insurance coverage that may be available to your church in the event a claim is brought.
