

You Won't Believe the Video Awarded Best Trailer at the 2017 International Christian Film Festival

In its fifth year, the International Christian Film Festival is the largest Christian film festival in the world.

This year, the prestigious award for Best Film Trailer didn't go to your typical movie trailer. Instead, it went to the action packed trailer for the Conquer Series.

The Conquer Series is a powerful cinematic film series used by churches in over 60 countries to help men break free from pornography.

The festival judges were not the only ones impressed by the film trailer with over 400,000 men in training to walk in freedom as a result of going through the Conquer Series. The powerful three-minute video features highlights from the cinematic, six-part small-group series.

"We're excited to see the way God continues to use these films to have a profound impact on people's lives all around the world," says Jeremy Wiles, director of both films.

"Just recently we received this message from someone who had been through the Conquer Series: 'With your help, it's now four months of pure living and a freedom I had not known in over 60 years! I finally found the Dad I never had here on earth in Father God. It has made all the difference in the world!' That's why we come to work every day," says Wiles.
